Abstract (en)
[origin: FR2900033A1] The brush has a brush handle including a pyramid shaped assembling tip at its end, and a removable brush head (2) fixed at the tip, where the tip has a locking unit locking the head in rotation and handle parallelly acts as a hand dryer. The head has a rod (7) placed at an inner part of a rigid perforated tubular sleeve (8). The tip has an annular groove with a depth of specific millimeters and a diameter corresponding to a sleeve's diameter in which the groove receives a sleeve's male end (12). A cylindrical segment penetrates to the sleeve's inner part when the head is installed on the tip.
