Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2100680A1] Production of a component (6) involves (a) providing a protective layer in the form of a support (1), (b) applying a thermal insulation layer (4) onto the support and (c) casting the support-insulation layer assembly into a cast component (7). An independent claim is included for a laminated system for a component, consisting of a protective layer (1), a thermal insulation layer (4) applied onto to the support and a cast component (7) applied onto the insulation layer.
