Abstract (en)

[origin: DE102006062352A1] The device (10) has a return pipe (30) with an opening, which is conductively connected with an outlet section (24) of a main pipe (14). The return pipe has an end (34) conductively connected with a feed section (22) of the main pipe. A pump (36) discharges water heated by a water heating device (20) i.e. flow heater, from the feed section to the outlet section through the main pipe. A water inlet is connected to a water supply device. A delivery device is connected with the water inlet over the main pipe.
