Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2103499A1] The arrangement (10) has two side plates (11, 12) fastened to two grid walls (4, 5) of a container (1) using two removable flexible retaining straps (13), where the side plates consist of polymer material. The side plates are provided for covering an open side of the container. The retaining straps extend away over the grid walls and are connected at the ends with the side plates. Each retaining strap has flexible end sections extending over the strap ends, where the end sections have a fastening arrangement connected to the side plates.
