Abstract (en)
Light fitting module (2) which is fastenable in a fitting frame. The light fitting module comprises a locking module (1) with a manually operable locking arm (5) which is adjustable between a stable release position in which the locking arm releases the light fitting module for mounting and/or demounting in the fitting frame, and a stable locking position in which the locking arm locks the light fitting module in the fitting frame. The locking arm may be pivotably fastened to the light fitting module.
