Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2107326A1] The device e.g. refrigerator (9), has a holding device (10) for storage of bottles (5) or tins and including a base part (1) acting as a bottom and two side parts (2, 3) that are directed upwards from the base part and connected to both sides of the base part. A change-over (4) between the base part and the side parts is adapted to a form of an interior space of the refrigerator. Corner radii are formed at the change-over corresponding to radii of the refrigerator interior space. The holding device has a U-shaped or V-shaped cross-section and is formed from a plate-like semi-finished part.
