Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2117087A2] The connector has a plug (20) and a socket provided with electrical supply lines (12), respectively, where the plug and the socket have identical numbers of plug contacts (201-208) and socket contacts, respectively. The plug contacts and the socket contacts are conductively connected with each other, where the plug contacts transmit control signals and/or data streams. The electrical supply lines include number of wires (14-17) less than the number of the plug contacts and the socket contacts. A plug lock is arranged opposite to the plug contacts.
