Abstract (en)
[origin: DE102007009457A1] The container has a hollow receiving body (1) provided for receiving dispensing medium and including a dispensing opening that is closed by a closing part (9) that is formed at a head part of the container. The closing part is separated from an edge of the dispensing opening over a separating point, and a handling aid is attached at an end that is located at a distance from the dispensing opening, where the handling aid is formed as a tag (19). Another handling aid is attached at the closing part, and is formed as another tag (25).
