Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2008122318A1] The invention relates to a covering (11) as a part of a guide carrier (15) on a door rail for a sliding door system of a rail car, in particular a passenger rail car. Said guide carrier (15) runs along a horizontal edge of a door opening of the car body of the rail car and has a guide device (32) for the sliding support of a sliding door (13a), wherein the covering serves to cover at least the door rail and the support elements on the outside.
