Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2008145879A1] The invention relates to a sun shade (10) including a bearing structure (12), an extension structure (14) mobile in translation relative to the bearing structure (12), and a linking mechanism (16) linking the extension structure (14) with the bearing structure (12) and allowing the translation of the extension structure (14) between retracted position and an extended position. The linking mechanism (16) is such that it extends beyond the bearing structure (12) when the extension structure (14) is in the extended position.
