Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2145828A1] The cardboard or like material box comprises a body and a cover obtained from a single punched and creased blank. The blank comprises a first portion (A) designed to form the box body and a second portion (B) designed to form the box cover. The first and second blank portions are joined by crease lines (C) and in the remainder are separated by intermediate cut lines (F). The second blank portion (B) is folded on itself to form a cuff for stiffening the cover.
