Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2149768A2] The shelf (10) has a relocatable arranged holding part (40) for fixing an article found on the shelf, where the holding part is arranged at a guiding element by another guiding element in a relocatable manner. The guiding elements are designed such that the latter guiding element is guided into the former guiding element by a movement relative to the former guiding element in a lateral direction of the shelf and/or removable from the former guiding element. The former guiding element is arranged at a limitation unit e.g. front-sided wall (16).
