Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2153907A1] The dispensing device (1) comprises a valve (3), which has a female, pressed or movable valve element (11) for opening the valve. The valve element is provided with an engaging section (13) for a form-fit or holding of an insertable, male valve adapter (12) after the assembly of the valve into the valve element. The valve adapter comprises another engaging section (14), which interacts with the former engaging section of the valve element.
