Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2154303A2] The profile (1) has a flexible jointing strap (4) that includes retaining profiles (2, 3) i.e. edge profiles, made of plastic, at both lateral edges (5, 6) for fastening to wall regions that confines an expansion joint. The flexible jointing strap is provided as a separate component that is fastenable, clippable or insertable to the retaining profile after displacement of the retaining profile and the completion of reinforcement- and/or plastering operation. Latching elements (20, 21) are fastened to the lateral edges of the flexible jointing strap. The flexible jointing strap is made of fabric-reinforced plastic film.
