Abstract (en)
[origin: DE202007007904U1] Light has a light head (10), retaining an illuminant, and a stand (20). Multiple light sources (42) of a secondary lighting unit (40) are arranged circulating around the stand within a circumferential area with a radius smaller than the circumference of the light head. The light head is illuminated directly from the side facing illuminant, or in addition to the light head, the column is also illuminated in the operating condition of the sources of light.
