Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2166162A1] The flushing device (1) comprises a water tank (5) for storing flushing water, where a casing (2) is provided for covering the water tank. The casing is manufactured from a support frame (3) and a decoration element (4) which forms a front side (14) of the casing. The decoration element is connected with the support frame in a detaching or an undetaching manner. The decoration element is formed in a plate shape.
