Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2009024219A1] The invention relates to a sanitary fitting (1) having a housing (2), an outlet (3), and functional parts (4) for conducting water. Said outlet (3) is formed on the housing (2), or is connected or connectable to the housing (2). The functional parts (4) are preferably disposed inside the housing (2). In the sanitary fitting according to the invention, the outlet (3) is substantially free of any water-conducting functional parts (4) and at least the outlet (3), and preferably the housing (2), are substantially completely made of glass.
