Abstract (en)
The machine (2) has a control device (20) driving a set of crop receiving devices (3, 4) e.g. maize picker, and a loading device (9). The control device affects the drive of the crop receiving devices and the loading device such that separate reversing of the crop receiving devices and the loading device is caused during the occurrence of a blockage and/or penetrating foreign body. The control device stands in an effective connection with a control element (21) e.g. rocker switch (28), which is arranged in an operator's cab (23).
