Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2179680A1] The rest (1) has two changeable connecting pieces (5) that are different from one another and provided for connection with a hinged chair (2). The pieces exhibit connecting devices, where each connecting device is formed at each connecting piece. The connecting devices are provided for connection with the rest and with the chair, respectively. One of the devices is designed as a spring-loaded rest mandrel with a corresponding rest opening. The rest opening is provided in a wall of a case of each piece.
