Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2009026950A1] A refrigerating sales furniture (2) comprises a furniture body (4) having a refrigerated goods display space (6) therein wherein at least one goods display portion is provided within the goods display space (6). Said goods display portion comprises an upright pillar (10) arranged at the front of the refrigerated goods display space (6) at one side of the goods display portion; at least one goods display deck (8) being pivotably mounted to the upright pillar (10) and having a goods support surface bordered by a rear edge, two side edges and a front edge extending substantially over the whole width of the goods display portion. The side edge of the goods display deck (8) opposite to the upright pillar (10) is oblique such that the goods display deck (8) is pivotable between a goods selling position, in which the goods display deck (8) is supported within the refrigerated goods display space (6), and a goods placement position at least partly outside the refrigerated goods display space (6).
