Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2183994A1] The work station (1) has a table (2) consisting of multiple table legs (7) and a table plate (6), and has a mounting element (5) with a partition element (3). Two cylindrical table legs are arranged in the area of the sides of the table at which the table legs are aligned parallel to each other and vertically. The partition element is supported by consoles (4) at the table legs arranged in the area of the respective sides of the table. The consoles have a cover section (12) guided to the respective leg in displacing manner. The cover section has a cantilever arm (13).
