Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2187133A2] The method involves providing a display element (10,12,14,20,22,24,26) to a working program which displays the steps on a display device (1) during the course of the working program. The working program is provided in two ways of the program steps and the instruction steps. An independent claim is included for a cooking device with a cooking chamber.
