Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2191803A1] The device has a backplate divided into two backplate parts (1, 2), and a mattress divided into two mattress parts (3, 4) independent from each other. A bed base (5) is equipped with lateral crosshead guides (6, 7) permitting to create a space (8) between the independent parts of the backplate and the mattress. The bed base is equipped with transversal crosshead guides (9, 10) on which a container (11) for receiving waste is placed, where the container is made of synthetic material.
