Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2193918A2] The arrangement (1) has a set of formers (10, 20, 30) arranged transversely adjacent to each other along a web running direction of a substrate web. A set of longitudinal slitting devices longitudinally slits the substrate web into two part webs. The set of longitudinal slitting devices is arranged in front of the set of formers, where the slitting devices are arranged transversely along a web running direction. The formers and longitudinal slitting devices are separately moved along the web running direction.
