Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2196602A1] The post (1) has a hooking zone defined in lateral throats (2, 3) and formed by a longitudinal projection (7). Longitudinal slots (8) are arranged on the longitudinal projection. Projections (9) have a base (10) whose section is smaller than top (11) of the projection. A symmetric plane is extended at a mid-length of an opening of the lateral throats. Another symmetric plane is arranged at a mid-distance between base walls of the throats. An independent claim is also included for a device for mounting a nozzle to a post, comprising an assembling part.
