Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2034060A1] The textile machine has a drawing frame (1) that forms a main drawing zone and contains two pairs of drawing rollers (3a,3b,4a,4b) including top and bottom rollers. A deflection device is provided that deflects a lower apron (9) from the fiber guiding direction into a returning direction and has a base body and a deflection guide that is placed on the base. The base is a mounting plate rail with a mounting plate head and a mounting plate neck, going through over multiple spinning places in longitudinal direction of the machine.
