Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2009047172A1] A method for closing containers (10) with closures by means of a closing device (1), wherein, for closing, the closures (10) are screwed onto openings (10a) of the containers (10). For closing the containers (10), the invention prescribes a final torque (Dend), with which the closing operation is completed, and this final torque (Dend) is less than a maximum torque (Dmax), which is applied at least once during the overall closing operation.
