Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2208687A2] The case has a cover (5) connected with a cup-shaped lower part (3), and ribs (13) provided in the lower part for fixing a container (25) to be accommodated at a distance from a wall (9) and a base (7) of the lower part. A projection (19) is provided in the cover for setting the container in a direction of an axis of the case. The cover is fixable at the lower part by screwing, locking connection or bayonet locking-type connection, and the ribs radially project into interior of the lower part. The projection is integrally formed with the cover.
