Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2009056678A1] The invention relates to a folding seat, which has two leg parts (10a, 10b) and at least one seat level (18), which is pivotably attached to the leg parts. In the first end of the leg part has been arranged a support member (40), with the aid of which the seat is pivotably attached to a base (100). The support member has a first edge (42) which settles against the leg part, which first edge has an elongated first hole (43) for a mounting pin (46) of the leg part, and a second edge (44) which is settled against the base, which second edge has a locking part for receiving and locking in place the first end of the leg part. The locking part is preferably a second hole (45) or opening, wherein the first end of the leg part can be fitted. The first end of the leg part is unlocked when the leg part is lifted upwards as much as the first hole allows for. The seat can be folded into a storage position, where the leg parts, backrest (20) and seat level of the seat settle in a substantially horizontal position on the base. The invention also relates to a support member of a seat and a spectator stand element, which comprises a base and at least one folding seat according to the invention, which is attached in a detachable manner to the base. The spectator stand element further includes a cover plate (58), which can be attached to the support member in place of the seat, which has been detached from the spectator stand element.
