Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2218363A1] The container has a head covering (11a) and a front covering (11b) closing an access opening (3) in a housing. A size of the opening is varied using the coverings based on preset parameters e.g. actual values of temperature within the housing. Sensors (15, 16) detect actual parameters and recurrent parameters. The sensors communicate with a control unit (14). A compressor (4), a condenser (5), an evaporator (6) and a ventilator (7) are loaded in large amount or less amount according to the size of the opening.
