Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2218389A2] The household-dishwasher has an item holder for accommodating items to be washed for a rinse cycle. The item holder includes a storage section (110) for storage of the items to be washed, where the storage section includes a lipophobic surface (111), an elevation (114) and/or a through-recess (116). The elevation is in the form of a lip, punching, knob or bead. The item holder includes a set of loops arranged next to each other, where the items to be washed are inserted into the loops. A door is pivotably mounted at a washing container.
