Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2009050467A1] Tent structures include a plurality of upright poles (1, 4). The tent structures include predetermined locations for the tops of the upright poles (1, 4) and the bases of the upright poles (1, 4). Guy ropes (3) or triangular pieces of fabric (6) support the upright poles (1) and enable the users to place pegs at pre-determined locations in order that the upright poles (1) support themselves during pitching of the tent.
