Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2226573A2] The cover (1) has a set of cover elements (2) held at a heating body over a fastening element. The cover elements are arranged in parallel at a distance to each other in a horizontal or vertical alignment and are individually connected with the fastening element by retaining elements. The fastening element has horizontal retaining strips and vertical supporting elements. The strips are connected with the supporting elements at a distance to each other, where the strips exhibit U-shaped cross section.
