Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2009059621A1] A refrigerating sales furniture comprises a furniture body having a rear wall (17) and a goods presentation and refrigeration space, an air flow channel (8) arranged at least partly at the rear wall (17), said air flow channel (8) comprising at least one channel inlet (8a), through which an air flow enters into the air flow channel (8), and at least one channel outlet through which the air flow leaves the air flow channel. The refrigerating sales furniture further comprises an air flow passage reduction insert (14) which is selectively arrangeable in the air flow channel (8) such that it reduces the air flow passage area to allow medium-sized air flow passage or such that it reduces the air flow passage area to allow small air flow passage.
