Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2228510A2] The fitting has a lifting cover connected to a lower joint plate (1), and a lower lifting bolt (8) interactive with the cover. The cover includes lifting surfaces, and the bolt includes complementary lifting surfaces. A lifting or lowering of a shower door fastened to the fitting and rotatable with the bolt is obtained in an end-assembled condition of the fitting during rotation of the bolt. The cover is rotatable during continuous assembly of the fitting for adjusting relative to the joint plate. The cover is fixed with respect to the plate in a rotation-secure manner.
