Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2236058A2] The tray (2) has a foldable single-piece blank comprising two rectangular base areas, a long side wall connected to a long side of one of the base areas, two short side walls which are connected to short sides of one of the base area and two tongues. Each tongue has a horizontal auxiliary channel and a diagonal auxiliary channel. An insertion slot (6) is provided in a folding line between one of the base area and the short side walls, where the length of the slot corresponds to the length of the tongues. The tongues are positioned at an outer side of the tray, in a tray folded condition. An independent claim is also included for a display comprising a display coat.
