Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2243718A1] The package has a lower container (1) for storing a component i.e. polymer, and an upper container (5) for storing another component i.e. hardener. The lower container has a base (3) and a lower side wall area (2), where the base together with the lower side wall area is formed as a cover for the upper container. A flange-like seam (9) is externally aligned and formed in a lower side wall area of the upper container. An elastic sealing is arranged below the seam. The upper container is in the form of a cylinder.
