Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2248677A1] A method of manufacturing multilayer coating for decoration of surfaces comprises the successive steps of providing a supporting substrate (2), applying a protective layer (3) on said substrate (2), applying at least one first decorative layer (4) on the protective layer (3) to transfer a first ornamental pattern thereto, depositing at least one adhesive layer (5) on the first decorative layer (4) to form a multilayer coating (1) designed to be applied on a surface to be decorated (S). The substrate (2) is a film of a polymeric material designed to be removed from the protective layer (3) after application of the multilayer coating (1) on the surface to be decorated (S). A plant for manufacturing a multilayer coating for the decoration of surfaces.
