Abstract (en)
[origin: WO2009107103A2] This invention relates to a method for cooking foodstuffs placed in a container (21) being heated by a heating source (4), wherein the heating of the source (4) on the container (21) is all the more concentrated as the distance from the container (21) to the source (4) is smaller. This invention also relates to a device for cooking foodstuffs placed in a container (21), comprising a heating source (4) for heating a container (21) and a means (18) for supporting a container (21), arranged so as to heat a container (21) in an all the more concentrated way as the distance from the container (21) to the source (4) is smaller.
