Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2253477A1] The line (1) has a hanging device arranged at a conveying end of the line. Processing stations (8, 9) are provided for processing a book block back portion (13) and arranged in regular partial distances along a conveying device (11). Round-and press stations are designed in a modular manner and optionally mounted between a supply station (3) and a gluing station (7). The round-and press stations are replaced by a conveyance station (5) that is designed in a modular manner and downstream to the supply station for processing a book block (12) with a book back portion.
