Abstract (en)

[origin: WO2009101198A1] The invention relates to a shutter frame support (1) for placement onto an upper, horizontal window frame profile (2) comprising a plurality of latching feet (3, 4) and an external upper edge (5). The shutter frame (1) comprises a plastic floor base profile (8), a plurality of cover profiles (9, 10, 11, 12) and two rear covers (14). The floor base profile (8) is rigidly connected laterally to the rear cover (14) and comprises a support bracket (17) for affixing the support position of the shutter frame (1) to the external upper edge (5) of the window frame profile (2), a latch stirrup (18) for underside engagement of the external latching foot (4) of the window frame as the sole latching means of the floor base profile (8) at the window frame profile (2), and a support surface (19) for support on the other latching feet (3) of the window frame.
