Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2260816A2] The mobile sanitary room has an access opening closed by an access-door (2) and an access platform for easing the access to the interior of the sanitary room. The access platform is arranged over a lifting device (5) in a moving manner. The access platform and the lifting device are arranged at the access door. The access platform is attached to the access door in the closing position of the door and encloses a right angle with the door in the opening position of the door.
