Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2261141A1] The device has two mobile supporting rods (20) i.e. telescopic clothes rods, with a unit for temporary attachment of the supporting rods between two side walls of a transport container. The two mobile supporting rods are connected together by a cable-shaped or belt-shaped and/or chain-shaped anti-theft device (40) i.e. steel cable. The anti-theft device is guided by loops (21), which are attached at the supporting rods. The loops are rotated around a longitudinal axis of the supporting rods. An end of the anti-theft device is attached to a winding device.
