Abstract (en)

The window assembly (1) comprising a window sash (2) carrying a window pane (3). The sash has a flange (5) abutting a first side (6) of the window pane and is provided with retaining members (7) holding the window pane. Each retaining member has a mounting flange (11) with opposed end faces (14, 15) and has a retaining flange (12) abutting a second side (16) of the window pane. The mounting flange is mounted on the sash member (4) by means of a fastening element fixed to the sash member and engaging a groove (18) in the mounting flange. The groove has an inclined edge and is open for insertion of the fastening element through an end face (14, 15) of the mounting flange.
