Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2278071A1] The platform edge has a platform edge element formed as a removable, integral platform edge plate (2). A support console (3) comprises a horizontal arm and a vertical arm that is arranged perpendicular to the horizontal arm. The horizontal arm of the support console is formed as a storage part of the platform edge plate. The vertical arm of the support console is formed as a joint of the platform edge plate and a front longitudinal support element of a platform (21). An undercut is formed as an escape refuge (22). A removable or rotatable edge plate is made of wood, concrete or plastic.
