Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2281963A2] The partition (1) has wall elements (2) movably guided along a stationary rail by castors (9) of a roller carriage (8). One of the elements is designed as a pivoting element including a carrying profile that is connected to carriages. A locking device e.g. adjustable locking bar, is provided opposite to the rail for locking the profile. Another locking device e.g. tiltable locking bar, is provided opposite to the profile for locking a pivoting profile (3b). The devices are arranged together in a coupling device (14) that includes an actuator for common actuation of the locking devices.
