Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2284118A2] The drive bearing (62) has a circular body (64) and a radial or axial fastening arm (72) for fastening the circular body at a frame of an industrial truck. The circular body has an anti-friction surface for a friction bearing or a contact surface (68) for rolling element of a roller bearing for receiving a drive unit in a pivotable manner. An independent claim is also included for a drive system with a gear box.
