Abstract (en)

[origin: EP2289387A1] The dishwasher has a washing tank comprising an access opening closable by a door. A door lock is provided at a front edge region of the washing tank or at the door and provided with a movable closing piston. A limiting device (6) is formed as a lever and retained at the front edge region of the washing tank or at a housing (5) of the door lock, where the limiting device is made of plastic material or metal. The limiting device blocks movement of the closing piston in a position (10) and releases the movement of the closing piston in another position (11).
