Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2290308A2] The cooling device, particularly household cooling device, has a corpus and a door that is attached to the corpus, where a front bar (19) of a user interface is formed. A mold part (1) is arranged behind the front bar within the corpus. An open frame is formed in the mold part for retaining a circuit assembly. The circuit assembly is functionally connected with the user interface.
