Abstract (en)
[origin: EP2290638A2] The label (1000) has material layers (10, 20) including respective material sections (110, 120, 210, 220), where one of the layers (20) is arranged above the other material layer (10). The layers are arranged to each other such that the first section (210) of the former layer (20) is separated from the second section (220) of the former layer during separating of the first section (110) of the latter layer (10) from the second material section (120) of the latter material layer. The first section (210) of the former layer (20) adheres at the first section (110) of the latter layer (10).
